*After studying and photographing a number of structured water resources using dark field microscopy, water researcher, Dr. Masaru Emoto believed Robert Lloy's was the highest quality stable structured water on the planet, due to the imprinting capability of his scalar wave technology. "It was a historical event. On Feb. 12, 2003, I traveled to Oxnard, California to attend a meeting with Robert Lloy, to discuss Scalarwave Technology, and Scalarwave Structured Water™... Later that year, I invited Robert Lloy to form a partnership which I named EmLloy, in honor of our surnames, Emoto and Lloy." —Dr. Masaru Emoto, Messages From Water
